MAKING MEETINGS

I would like to express my need for meetings. They strengthen my grip on ~~my~~ ^{my} ~~life~~ ^{my ~~own~~ ~~life~~}. When I first started I use to go once in a while & I would find excuses not to go. I was scared because I didn't know anybody. I use to think I didn't need meetings. When things started to go wrong though I would make meetings. Now I make ^{A LOT OF} a few meetings regularly. I need them. Meetings keep me in touch with where I've been, but more importantly where I can go with my ~~life~~ ^{clean & sober} life. When I stop making meetings I know I'm headed for trouble. I feel comfortable in any NA meeting I go to & know I'm welcome. So anybody out there who is afraid to go to a meeting for whatever reason my hand will be there waiting for you to come to your senses and reach out for a clean & sober life.
