RE: Copyright and printing of "N.A.
Narcotics Anonymous" book.

Dear Kevin:

I would like to thank you for your time a few nights ago and apologize for the interruption. However, the information you provided me helped a great deal in regard to the above captioned matter.

Just after talking with you, I called Chuck G. I got his recorder and after identifying myself, I asked that he return my call. I have not heard from him. I did call John , the attorney for WSO, the next day. We had a good conversation and for the first time, he heard "the other side of the story."

After talking with Mr. O. I wrote him a letter, a copy of which I enclose. I felt I had best define our position. I have called him once since then, but he was in court. I wanted to give him the opportunity to review my correspondence and to understand our position as to this controversy. I just called him again today and I was told he is still in court and will not be back in the office until Monday, March 21st.

At this time, I'm not sure of WSO's position, however, until I hear otherwise, I must assume they intend to proceed with printing the book. Considering the momentum of this controversy and its possible adverse effects on N.A. as a whole, I find this decision somewhat irrational and irresponsible. I have tried to maintain an open mind in this regard; but when one receives no response from the opposing side, its evident that the openmindedness is not shared.

Unless something is resolved in the very near future, I, myself, see no recourse available other than the courts. This has been our source of last resort, but I personally feel the evasiveness and the avoidance of this issue by the WSO will likely leave us with no alternative.

If my impressions are wrong or if you disagree with my conclusions, I welcome your response. In any event, please advise.

As you will note, I am sending a copy of the correspondence to Bob Rehmar and to Page C. I would appreciate input from them also.

Recoveringly yours,

R. Robert K.
